

circles are data types or coefficient vector types names in green

are programs

rectangles are digital filters that use the corresponding coefficients

